Antoinette Hubbard is a senior member of the Delaware asbestos litigation team and serves as the firm's Diversity & Inclusion Director.

Antoinette has extensive experience in the defense of complex product liability and toxic tort matters, including asbestos, tobacco, benzene, medical device and pharmaceutical cases. She has successfully defended personal injury cases, including wrongful death and severe impairment claims, and numerous commercial cases in both federal and state courts. Antoinette has served as Regional Counsel for the firm's national personal injury litigation team. Antoinette earned certification as a Litigation Management Professional at CLM's Litigation Management Institute hosted at Columbia Law School. She has written and lectured on diverse topics related to the defense and management of civil cases and has served as a lecturer and panelist at conferences held by The Products Liability Subcommittee of the Litigation Section of the ABA, The Products Liability Section of the Federation of Insurance and Corporate Counsel, The Corporate Counsel Subcommittee of the Torts and Insurance Practices Section of the ABA, and Perrin Conferences.
